Grade Fives relieved!

The dreaded grade five immunizations come to an end soon in May! If you are in grade five and you hate needles, then you're in luck because the last immunizations are coming really soon. As a grade five student, I speak from experience. I say that they are not fun but me and all my friends make it through with the comfort of each other. Try not to worry too much. It only takes seconds. If you're someone afraid of needles, just ask a friend to come in. Take a deep breath, ask them if you can squish they're hand or just simply count to ten. The last immunizations will be over before you know it!

Badminton

The grade sixes practiced long and hard to get a good place in the tournament. All of the teams did amazingly well! Kyan and Emily got their fourth place copper medal and Charlotte and Evan ended up in second place with a silver medal!
